Meet Holly Harris

Originally a Cape Cod native, I have called Florida my home for twenty years. I have a BS in Professional Management and have recently put behind me a long and rewarding career in hotel sales & marketing and event planning to reinvent myself. My goal is to use my unique blend of hospitality sales and marketing skills, professional skills and interior design skills and education to embark on a new career in commercial interior design. I am completing my formal education in interior design with a BS in Interior Design from the Art Institute of Pittsburgh, scheduled to graduate upon the completion of an internship in the field.

Hospitality Design

I believe the key to a designers success depends greatly upon their ability to effectively listen and understand what the client and/or end user is looking for. That which is communicated lays the foundation in creating a sense of place that entertains and engages the public safely while remaining environmentally friendly.
